Transforming Talent Acquisition with Seamless Integration Infinite and SelectionLink partner to bring world class assessment interviews to BrassRing Talent Acquisition Suite

ROCKVILLE, Maryland – March 20, 2024, Infinite Computer Solutions, a leading global technology company, and SelectionLink, Inc. announced today their partnership to integrate their award-winning HR software and services. Organizations can now easily integrate SelectionLink's world class Assessment Interviews with Infinite's BrassRing Talent Acquisition software enabling them to improve the recruitment of top talent.

This dynamic collaboration signifies a significant step forward in their collective mission to revolutionize the talent acquisition processes globally. As the need for assessments continues to accelerate, organizations demand solutions that seamlessly integrate with their ATS software.

Infinite BrassRing, a global solution for over 25 years, empowers organizations to streamline their recruitment processes and make data-driven hiring decisions with ease. Their robust solutions have consistently delivered efficiency and effectiveness in managing the entire recruitment lifecycle.

SelectionLink, Inc. has garnered widespread acclaim for its cutting-edge interview assessment software. SelectionLink's assessments are recognized for their accuracy and ability to identify top talent. They have conducted numerous predictive validation studies which prove an ROI, such as reduced turnover, higher customer satisfaction ratings, and increased sales. SelectionLink delivers an ROI on their assessments.

This partnership is based on a deep-rooted connection between the companies. Executives from both Infinite, Inc. and SelectionLink, Inc. have previously collaborated at a leading tech firm, where they successfully delivered unparalleled growth within the human capital management and software industry.

By combining the power of Infinite's Talent Acquisition Suite with SelectionLink's advanced assessment capabilities, organizations are empowered with unprecedented insights into their candidate pool. Recruiters and hiring managers will have access to comprehensive data and analytics, facilitating informed hiring decisions that drive organizational success.

"We are on a mission to revolutionize talent acquisition by fostering seamless connections between businesses and talent. Our strategy is to deliver "top of tier" solutions through a network of alliances and partnerships such as SelectionLink who offers top notch Assessment capability." Yashwanthraj Srisrimal, VP, Infinite
